

Sadlers Wells Wood Village Day 2026

We had a good day for Village Day, some sun and no rain, though it was quite breezy.

Our pitch was sited with several other “environmental” stalls between the arena and the fair, so less passing traffic than in the main area, but not bad.

We took several new photographs of the new wood showing the trees progressively getting thinned and diseased trees removed and set up a new display on the boards.

We had two new quizzes on British wild animal identification, for adults and children which got 8 and 15 entries respectively- about average for entries. Both quizzes got two entries with full marks and I have let the winners know.

The joint winners of the adult competition were David Petitcolin and Alison Allum.

The winners of the junior competition were Bea and Bert, each with full marks.

A very close second with just one mistake was Alice Petitcolin.

Very well done to all.

The competition to design a poster requesting people take their litter home got less take-up so Jess is planning to ask School and possibly Scouts and Guides if they could publicize it.

My thanks to Jess, Mike and Stephen who helped man the stall.
